

Day 1 & 2 - Saturday/Sunday August 19th & 20th

After months of nervous anticipation, on Saturday morning 23 JOLters and 8 leaders said farewell to the UK for an eleven hour flight to South Africa! Katie, Chantelle, Shelby, Joe and Jade all survived their first flights in excellent fashion and even managed to stomach 2 meals of airplane food! Jess was so excited about her journey that she slept from take off to landing...

Despite Buzza and Joe's best efforts to sabotage Claire's very organised passport plot, we had soon managed our transfer to Livingstone, Zambia, the next morning. We were pleased to hear on arriving at Faulty Towers Hotel, that Basil Fawlty was not in charge, and after settling in to our rooms we excitedly sat down for our first authentic African meal... Burger and fries!!

A game of 'limb ball' in the afternoon was hotly contested but, there being no clear winner, a re-match may soon be in order!

A brave few took to the icy pool for a dip before dinner and a welcome early night, ready to head off to Victoria falls in the morning!
